Bowdoin Taiko Drumming, Japanese Archery & Kimono Show 7 - 8:30 pm

Three Japanese traditions come to Bath for a fun family evening of entertainment! Bowdoin Taiko is an ensemble group which uses huge Japanese drums, and combines music, rhythm, and dance into a stunning audio-visual spectacle. They dazzled the audience last year with their performance, so don't miss this rare opportunity! Kyudo, literally "The Way of the Bow", is a martial practice using the unique bamboo Japanese bow. The fashion show features a range of beautiful Japanese kimonos modeled by Morse High School students, with narration by Pat Parker, who lived and taught for many years in Japan. Donations accepted.
